

About

Overview: The top half of the dashboard provides a broad overview on the current state of the Tate’s collection. Because the Tate’s focus is on British art, it summarizes both the total artworks and total artists, as well as total British artworks and total British artists and their percentage in the collection. It also shows the number of acquisitions by year over the last five years and a map color-coded by the number of artworks the Tate owns from each country. These numbers and charts are intended to provide a summary at a glance and are descriptive rather than interactive.

Search the Collection: The bottom half of the dashboard shows a count of artworks by different characteristics, such as location, medium, artist name, and century. By clicking on the dropdown filters, users can select or search on specific criteria. They can then drill down further to see at a granular level the details of artworks matching the characteristics specified.

Artwork Details: By clicking on a particular row in the bottom tables, the user is taken to a separate page showing all of the relevant artworks and additional details on the artwork such as Title and Dimension Description. There are also additional filters on the side to further narrow down on specific artworks. Note: not all information is known about artworks, which is why users may see “Unknown” for some fields.

Tips on Using the Dashboard:

- 1. The location table includes Continent, Country, and City. Depending on the level of granularity desired, the user can hover over the header and click - to collapse to a higher level or click + to expand to a lower level. Due to space limitations, there is no specific filter for City, though the user can still drill down by City.
- 2. When filtering, the user should first uncheck “All” before searching or selecting their desired filter.
- 3. To drill down to Artwork Details, click on the number associated with the row you want and it will take you to a new page.

Data Source: Data from this dashboard comes from an open-source repository posted on Github, which contains metadata on approximately 70,000 artworks and 3,500 artists in the Tate collection. This data was cleaned and transformed before loaded into Tableau. <https://github.com/tategallery/collection>
